The Christmas Crib

REV. PASCHAL KINSEL, O. F. M.,
Franciscan Monastery

There is a certain irresistible attraction in the memories of the Birthplace of the Saviour. In the Crib of Bethlehem, Christ first began to show His love and sympathy for mankind.

When Mary, the Mother of Jesus, tenderly placed her Child in the lowly Manger of Bethlehem, she inseparably linked in our minds, the Birth of her Son and the Manger, Christmas and the Crib.

The story of that first Christmas night in the City of David, has ever been a beacon of consolation and cheer for Christianity. There appeared the benignity, the grace, the loving kindness, the humanity of our Saviour. No one can grasp the stern lessons of Calvary and its Victim without passing through the lowly portals of the Grotto of Bethlehem.

To Saint Francis of Assisi is generally given the credit of making the Crib so conspicuous a part of the Christmas festival. The early biographers of the saint relate how, on the Eve of Christmas, 1223, St. Francis had a stable prepared on the hillside near Greccio in central Italy. Within it were living sheep, the ox and the ass, grouped about a manger. Here the sacred midnight services of Christmas were held. Francis' cherished wish "to make memorial of that Child who was born in Bethlehem, and in some sort to behold with bodily eyes, His infant hardships—how He lay in a manger on the hay with the ox and ass standing by" was fulfilled.

The Crib of Greccio was probably the first of its kind, although the custom of conducting a sacred drama of the Birth of Christ, at Christmas time was not uncommon in the Middle Ages.

Simple and homely as it was, the Crib of St. Francis had a great attraction for the people. It became a part of the Christmas service. The custom spread to all countries. Today nearly every church has its Christmas Crib.

The Sons of St. Francis have been true to the spirit of their holy founder in spreading this beautiful custom of the Crib. An exact reproduction of the Grotto of Bethlehem, and its Crib, is to be found in the Franciscan Church, here in the City of Washington. "Come, let us adore Him."

Historical Churches

By

Edward D. Gardner

ST. JOHN'S, EPISCOPAL.

St. John's Church, the third oldest Episcopal church in the District of Columbia, was organized in 1816. It has long been known as the "Presidents' Church," and all of the Presidents who have been Episcopalians have regularly attended services there in the pew specially reserved for them. These have included: Presidents Madison, Monroe, Tyler, and Arthur. In recent years Mrs. Taft has occupied the President's pew. Chief Justice Fuller was long a member of the vestry, and prominent officers of the army and navy usually held similar relations in this historic church. Admiral Dewey, Admiral Schley, General Pershing, and others, have been regular attendants at its services. The rectors have likewise been eminent churchmen. The Rev. Dr. William A. Leonard, while rector, was elected to the Bishopric of Ohio, and the Rev. Alexander MacKay Smith, also, while rector, was called to the Bishopric of Pennsylvania. In its present restored condition it is regarded by experts as one of the best specimens of early American church architecture extant. The present rector is the Rev. Robert Johnston, D.D., D.C.L.

VERMONT AVENUE CHRISTIAN CHURCH.

Organized in December, 1843, this congregation, of which President Garfield was a member, dedicated its present house of worship in January, 1884. Plans are now being formulated to erect a new edifice at Thomas Circle as a national church for the Disciples of Christ. The present pastor, Dr. Earle Wilfley, is the third pastor in the history of the church.

ST. PAUL'S, EPISCOPAL.

Just outside the northern gate of the Soldiers' Home is a church that served nearby Maryland for sixty years before the Revolution. Organized in 1717 as Rock Creek Parish, a house of worship was erected, rebuilt in 1775, remodeled in 1868, only to be gutted by a disastrous fire in 1922. However, the original design has been followed in its restoration. In the adjoining cemetery, graves may be seen that are more than 150 years old.

NEW YORK AVENUE PRESBYTERIAN CHURCH.

Organized in 1803 as the F Street Associate Reformed Church, this congregation changed its name in 1820 to the Second Presbyterian Church, and in 1859 adopted its present name on moving into its new church on New York Avenue, near 14th Street. Of the many notable personages who were members of this church, Abraham Lincoln is, perhaps, most outstanding.

"Rose-Marie" opens at Poli's Theater for one week, beginning this Sunday evening, with matinees on Monday, Thursday and Saturday. "Rose-Marie" is a resplendent musical achievement, luxurious in tunes, color, scenic and costumic effect. "Rose-Marie" is something more than a frothy musical play—it is a musical comedy with a bang—with sufficient strength to keep the interest at high pitch during its ten episodes, and is distinctive in that its melodies are far more elegant than one is in the habit of finding adorning productions of this family. "Rose-Marie" is a love story, the action taking place in the Canadian Rockies, the land of everlasting charm. The characters are the picturesque French found in this region, according to the story-book romances. There are the famed Royal Mounted Police, half-breeds, Indians, fur traders, comedians, villains, and smart tourists, all stirred into this delectable pudding. Otto Harbach and Oscar Hammerstein, 2nd, wrote the book, and Rudolf Friml and Herbert Stothart, the superb score.

John Gilbert and Greta Garbo, who were last seen together in "Flesh and the Devil," appear again for the first time since in "Love," film version of "Anna Karenina," Tolstoy's classic of Russia, which comes to Loew's Columbia Theater Saturday, December 24th.

The story is laid in the gayest period of the Russian court, with Gilbert as the beautifully uniformed Count Vronsky, and Miss Garbo in the role of the tragic Anna. The cast includes George Fawcett as the grand duke, Emily Fitzroy, Brandon Hurst, Philippe de Lacy and others.

Supplementary features include M-G-M News, a comedy and the Columbia Orchestra, under the direction of Claude Burroughs.

"The Spot on the Sun" is the attraction this week of the Shubert-Belasco Theater and is a comedy of continental life with a strong theme of a mother who is willing to sacrifice more than life itself in order to protect her daughter. Mr. Turner has written a tense and thrilling play that tells of a charming woman, who has been living in Monte Carlo on borrowed money. Suddenly, her daughter is in danger, and she realizes that it is her extravagant manner of living that has placed her there. The situation is almost beyond aid, but the mother manages to solve the problem and, thankful for her miraculous escape, leaves the resort to take up her life in England, resolved to enjoy her daughter's love which she has neglected for the false pleasure of her former life.

The attractions at Loew's Palace Theater for the week commencing Saturday, December 24, include Mary Pickford's new release, "My Best Girl," as the screen feature, with an Oriental jazz carnival revue, entitled "Bagdad," as the stage entertainment.

"Bagdad," is a "band revue" with a cast including the Palace Syncopators under the direction of Wesley Eddy, "The Rajah of Syncopation," as guest conductor; Dezsö Retter, the Sultan's comique; Bell and Coates, two American travelers in Bagdad; Fred Martin, the rubber leg dancer; Ernest Charles, the voice from the mystic land, and the Tivoli Girls, six dancers called "the Rajah's beauties."

"My Best Girl" is the story of a shop girl, Maggie Johnson, who, through all the hard knocks she receives, still retains a belief in better things.

"On Your Toes," starring Reginald Denny, comes to the Rialto Saturday, December 24, as the screen attraction for Christmas week.

The story concerns a dancing teacher who has been made over into a prize-fighter by the insistence of his sweetheart and her father. He still retains his gentle characteristics, however, and is always too chicken-hearted to knock out his opponent, even though he can easily do so.

Barbara Worth plays the feminine lead.

The stage offering is termed "A Soiree Musicale," introducing vocal solos, duets and instrumental numbers.

In keeping with the holiday spirit the Fox Theater has as its stage feature this week Victor Herbert's operetta, "Babes in Toyland." On the screen Madge Bellamy is starred in "Very Confidential."

The new Victor Herbert piece, the third of the cycle to be presented under the new Fox stage policy, has become a Christmas stage classic, with its merry music and colorful, fantastic episodes and costuming. The regular Fox choral ensemble and ballet, augmented by new specialty entertainers, interpret the operetta, with Grace Yeager, Bonnie Imbrie, Harold Hansen and Paul Kleman singing the leading roles. Claire and Harris, star ballet dancers also are featured. The extra portion of stage show is entitled, "The Doll Dance," a dance novelty created by Alexander Oumannsky, ballet master, based on Liadoff and Brown's famous melodies, and feature Peggy White and the Fox Ballet.

Many of the rarest and most beautiful examples of Christmas music of all nations and all times will be included in the program rendered by the Davison Glee Club, John R. Monroe, Conductor, in Pierce Hall, 15th and Harvard Streets, N. W., on Tuesday, January 3rd, at 8:15 P. M.

This club, which is now in its fourth season, is a voluntary organization of young men interested in presenting in the most excellent manner possible choral music of the finer sort. There are no paid members and the club is supported entirely by the proceeds of three concerts each year. No effort is spared to make these programs as interesting and varied as possible. A similar diversity is shown in the soloists who have appeared with the chorus.

"Jazz Carnival," an elaborate production in eight numbers, with principals recruited from Broadway, a ballet and many featured artists, is the stage presentation arranged by Edward L. Hyman for the Christmas Week program at the Earle Theater.

"Man Crazy," with Jack Mulhall and Dorothy Mackaill, is the feature photoplay. It is a swift comedy-romance, adapted from the Saturday Evening Post story, "Clarissa of the Post Road."

The Earle topical review precedes "Jazz Carnival." The opening number is "Annabelle Lee" with the Earle Ensemble; Vale and Stewart, dancers; Caesar Nesi, playing "A Little Love, a Little Kiss"; the Serova Dancing Girls in "Flapetettes," Veronica, the dancer; Restivo, in musical novelties; Ruth Watson and Restivo and dancers in "My Blue Heaven"; Vale and Stewart in a novelty, and "Hallelujah," sung by Ruth Watson and ensemble.

"The King of Kings," a majestic film spectacle of the life of Christ, begins its second week at the National this Sunday.

This screen adaptation of the New Testament narrative is approached by Mr. De Mille with reverence and delicacy, and the performance of H. B. Warner as the Christ is one of the finest characterizations. Likewise the work of Ernest Torrence as Peter, Joseph Schildkraut as Judas, Jacqueline Logan as Mary Magdalene and Rudolph Schildkraut as Caiaphas.

The directorial genius of De Mille is always in evidence, especially so in the scenes following the death. Magnificent reproductions of the Garden of Gethsemane, where Christ is betrayed by Judas; the temple and the halls of Caiaphas and Pilate and the hill of Calvary are among the pictorial high lights, much of which are in colors.

Al Jolson in "The Jazz Singer" is the attraction at Crandall's Metropolitan Theater, beginning Christmas day.

In this picture the black-face comedian makes his debut on the screen, and in it he is credited with having scored a great success. The story is full of appeal, and is said to strike a sympathetic chord that is not to be denied.

Heretofore this marvelous instrument has merely supplied the musical accompaniments to pictures, but in "The Jazz Singer" it is used in several of the sequences. Through it Jolson is seen and heard singing six melodies, some of them old favorites. One of the songs, composed especially for the picture, is entitled "Mother, I Still Have You," and is one of the comedian's greatest hits.

Located in the spacious ballroom of what is generally known as the "Draper House," that home of fastidious fashion of a generation ago—and now beautifully transformed into what is known as the fashionable Club St. Marks. Luncheon, Dinner and Supper Dancing are the features. Lunch is from 12 to 3 P. M. at $1.00 and a la carte, with concert music under the direction of John Schultz. Dinner Dancing is from 6 to 9:30 P. M. (no covert charge) at $1.50 and $2.00. The Supper Club is from 10:00 P. M. to 1 A. M. with covert charge, $1.10, except on Saturdays and holidays when covert charge is $1.65. The orchestra, one of the finest, is under the joint direction of John Schultz and Sam Rosy. The Club St. Marks is under the personal direction of Helen Ray Hagner, George C. Minnigerode and Jake Kosman.

The Du Barry Room, a recent addition to the Club St. Marks, is open and available for Private Luncheons, Card Parties, Teas and Dinners.

BETTER 'OLE

1515 You St., N. W. Tel. North 2539

Located on the second floor at 1515 You Street N. W. A real Bohemian atmosphere seems to permeate the place with the Better 'Ole Club Orchestra ("McWilliams' Versatile Four") rendering tantalizing, tempting melodies for the dancing, which is from 10 P. M. to 2 A. M. nightly (except Sunday). Covert charge is 75c per person, except on Saturdays and holidays, when it is $1.25 per person.

Special entertainment features are provided and light refreshments may be obtained. Robert, the genial host is always on hand to greet you and make you feel at home.

Membership cards for the season may be obtained at the discretion and with the approval of the Board of Directors. Make application to "Robert" for membership.

CLUB MIRADOR

West Bradley Lane, Md. Telephone Bradley 394

Located in the gently rolling hills out in Bradley Hills, on West Bradley Lane, about two miles west of Wisconsin Avenue. Dancing is the principal feature. Maurice Harmon directs the orchestra and furnishes some real stuff for the dancing. This is a real wide-awake night club where the dancing does not start until the hour of 10 P. M. and continues until 2 A. M. Sandwiches, salads, ginger ale, etc., may be had in the evening, while luncheon, tea, and dinner are served during the daytime. Subdued lighting effects add to the charm of the Club Mirador.

Reached by automobile via Connecticut Avenue, north past Chevy Chase Circle, to Bradley Lane beyond Wisconsin Avenue for two miles. Club Mirador is on the left and at night is indicated by deep blue lights.

MAYFLOWER HOTEL.

Conn. Ave. and DeSales St. Tel. Main 9800

Located at the entrance to the beautiful Connecticut Boulevard, The Mayflower Hotel offers dinner dancing in the unsurpassed setting of Presidential Restaurant. Dancing is every evening from 7 to 10 P. M. Service a la carte. No cover charge. Music is by Sidney and his Mayflower orchestra.

Afternoon Tea Dances are held daily (except Sunday) from 4:30 to 6:15 P. M.

CLUB CHANTECLER.

BETTER 'OLE CLUB HAS BIGGER PLANS

Preparations for the observance of Christmas and for New Year festivities have been completed at the Better 'Ole Night Club, 1515 U St., N. W.

Reservations for the New Year Eve celebration are rapidly coming in and those who intend to place reservations at the Better 'Ole Club are urged to do so at once, as only a limited number can be accommodated.

A series of unusual entertainments will be presented thereafter every Thursday and Saturday throughout the season. Nina Haynes will be the feature attraction.

SALVO AND GLORIA.

Playing now their third return engagement at the exclusive Wardman Park. They are presenting a Spanish Tango, a Waltz, and their famous Apache Dance. Salvo and Gloria will remain at the Wardman Park until December 31st. The Apache dance has made this team famous. From here the dancers will go to the "Lido Venice," in Boston, Mass., before leaving for a European tour.

Think of all the people you can get on the telephone for a nickel.

THE OTHER WISE MAN.

Dr. Henry Van Dyke's world-beloved Christmas legend, "The Other Wise Man," will be presented for the third consecutive season, at Luther Place Memorial Church, by the Chapel Players, on Monday, Tuesday, and Wednesday evenings of this week, December 26, 27, and 28, at 8:30 o'clock.

The public is invited to attend this play in celebration of the Christmas season. There is no admission fee.

THE WHITE PROPHET.

Claiming to have received a revelation of the downfall of religion through a great religious war between the white races and other races, will lecture here January 5th at the Washington Hotel (Hall of Nations), on "The Coming of the Master." The lecture will be from the 5th to the 8th of January, and free to the public.

The Frigidaire people got their idea sitting in a concrete stadium in November watching a football game.

Digest of Traffic Regulations
 DISTRICT OF COLUMBIA

PEDESTRIANS: Have the right of way at crosswalks in the absence of traffic officer or traffic device, but must obey the officer or device at intersections so controlled.

RIGHT OF WAY: All drivers must slow down on approaching an intersection and have their vehicles under such control as to avoid colliding. Except at Boulevard or Arterial Highway intersections, the driver on the right has the right of way, but must yield it to through traffic if he desires to make a turn at the intersection.

BOULEVARD AND ARTERIAL HIGHWAYS: Always stop at the "Stop" sign and do not proceed until you can do so with safety. Through traffic on such highways always has the right of way.

SPEED: Passenger vehicles, 22 miles an hour.

Pneumatic tire trucks, 18 miles an hour. Solid tire trucks, 15 miles an hour.

On Arterial Highways the speed is as above unless marked by signs.

ACCIDENTS: In case you are involved in an accident, no matter how slight, always stop and give your name, address and permit number to someone at the scene. Failure to do so will result in a heavy sentence and loss of driver's permit.

STOPPING, TURNING AND BACKING: Always give timely warning by extending the arm and hand straight out from the side of the car. Never attempt to turn around in any street when the turn cannot be completed without backing.

RIGHT TURNS: Must always be made on the Green signal or from the line of moving traffic.

LEFT TURNS: Proceed to the right-hand side of the intersecting streets on the green light, and wait until the light turns green, in the direction you wish to turn.

HEADLIGHTS: Must be bright, properly focused and equipped with legal lenses. Dazzling lights are prohibited.

PARKING LIGHTS: A parked car must always display a light at night.

PARKING: Restrictions as indicated by signs except in the congested district, where, in the absence of signs, the limit is one hour.

BRAKES: You must be able to stop your car in 50 feet from a speed of 20 miles per hour.

STREET CARS: Stop eight feet behind when they stop to load or unload.

DO NOT: Stop on cross-walks.

DO NOT: Drive through safety zones.

DO NOT: Park within 10 feet of a fire-plug.

DO NOT: Park within 20 feet of a street intersection.

DO NOT: Pass cars going in same direction at a street intersection.

DO NOT: Follow fire-engines within the same block.

DO NOT: Cut corners.

DO NOT: Pass to the right of another vehicle going in the same direction.

DO NOT: Drive in the middle of the street.

ALWAYS DRIVE WITH DUE CONSIDERATION FOR THE RIGHTS OF OTHERS.

NON-RESIDENTS AND TOURISTS are always welcome. We suggest that they call at the American Automobile Association, 17th and Pennsylvania Ave. N. W.—telephone, Franklin 4000—The Washington Motor Club, 15th and Penn. Ave., N. W., telephone Main 6262—or Traffic Department, Room 102, District Building—telephone, Main 6000.
